

The Census - Local Government as key stakeholders

Gareth Edwards

Rural and Regional Statistics

Overview

- Census 2011 products
- 2016 content development
- What is LG stake in the census?
- ABS engagement with LG

2011 Census Products

- QuickStats
- Community Profiles
- DataPacks
- TableBuilder Basic
- TableBuilder Pro
- Analysis Papers
- SEIFA
- CURFs
- SLCD
- Customised Data

2016 Content Development

- ABS seeks views on ABS content and procedures – from Nov, 2012
- More opportunity for content flexibility in a digital census, from 2016 onwards
- ABS have criteria for assessing content changes

2016 content ideas...

- Second residence question
- Travel to school
- Improvements to income question
- Birthplace of parents
- Visa status of migrants
- Second job

Local Government as stakeholder in the Census...

- LG uses Census data
- LG can provide local intelligence to aid Census collection
- LG provide views on data quality
- LG can support Census in local community

Local Government engagement

- Evaluation of 2011 Census engagement
- Future outlook for 2016 census program engagement
 - National level engagement
 - State/Territory level engagement
 - Local level engagement

Local Government Portal

ABS clients in the Local Government sector include individual councils, groups of councils, and Local Government Associations. This page is aimed at assisting these clients to find information required for planning and delivering services to their communities.

Finding data for Local Government Areas

The ABS has a range of data for Local Government Areas, including Census data and various demographic publications.

Finding data for States/Territories

The ABS also produces a large range of Social and Economic data at State/Territory level.

Helping you use data

The ABS provides training and other services and resources to help you use data.

How the ABS uses your data

Where does the data you supply to the ABS end up?

Keeping you informed

Keep up to date with the latest ABS releases and information.

Helpful Links for Local Government Organisations

This page provides links to other government websites.

Looking for Data for Your Local Government Area?

Q: Is my local government area advantaged or disadvantaged compared to others? and what does this mean?

A: The 'Socio-Economic Indexes For Areas' is specially designed to answer this question and includes data for local government areas.

National Regional Profile

SD/SSD/SLA

Local Government Area

Australia - Get Data

- + New South Wales - Get Data
- + Victoria - Get Data
- + Queensland - Get Data
- + South Australia - Get Data
- + Western Australia - Get Data
- + Tasmania - Get Data
- + Northern Territory - Get Data
- + Australian Capital Territory - Get Data
- + Other Territories - No profile available

Economy

Includes: Estimates of Unemployment, Taxation statistics, Government Pensions and Allowances.

Population/People

Includes: Estimated Resident Population by age and sex, Census data including qualifications and occupation, Births, Deaths.

Industry

Includes: Building Approvals, Motor Vehicle Census, Tourist Accommodation Establishments, Agricultural Commodities, Value of Agricultural Production.

Environment/Energy

Includes: Land Area, Water Use on Australian Farms.

<http://goo.gl/CGUf7>

Compare Regions