

Advancing Local Government Leadership Roundtable 2012

You are invited to join us at this inaugural national event to:

- Connect, network and begin an exchange of ideas on local government leadership from a national and international perspective
- Review the development of local government leadership programs across Australia
- Explore next stages for expanding the national network for leadership programs

BE PART OF THE CONVERSATION

Wednesday 28th November 2012,
10am – 3pm, Holiday Inn, Melbourne Airport

Facilitators include:

Professor John Martin

Director for Sustainable Regional Communities La Trobe University and Chair of ACELG National Workforce Development Reference Group

Professor Graham Sansom

Director of ACELG and UTS: Centre for Local Government

Jill Barrow

Former advisor to UK's Leadership Centre for Local Government, and previously CEO at UK Councils

Sophi Bruce

Leadership Program Specialist for UTS: Centre for Local Government and ACELG's Advancing Leadership initiative

Please RSVP to Penny Finlay on (02) 9514 1105 or penny.finlay@uts.edu.au by November 16th

Advancing Leadership is an ACELG initiative that aims to identify and network the best of existing local government leadership programs from around the country.

Partnerships are being formed and explored with associations, training and education providers, sector organizations and councils who are running quality leadership programs.

A model Graduate Certificate in Local Government Leadership has been developed in response to creating pathways to post-graduate study and is now being taught and adapted by partners across the country.

The partnership is open to stakeholders that are mutually supportive of creating greater development opportunities for local government leaders and who actively champion a national network of best practice innovators in this area.

ADVANCING LEADERSHIP
AUSTRALIAN CENTRE OF EXCELLENCE FOR LOCAL GOVERNMENT